

Menu and observers

The attached zip-file contains implementation of a simple menu system.

Improve the menu system by adding an observable integer editing menu item class that reports changes to the observers when the change is approved.

Change the Colors menu to use observable integer edits and create an observer that is registered to observe changes to any of the three colors.